

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING NEGOTIATIONS

Shulman Rogers's Employment & Labor Law Practice Group has successfully negotiated collective bargaining agreements throughout the United States on behalf of a government contractor client. Despite widely varying agreements proposed by multiple unions, we have been able to negotiate generally consistent collective bargaining agreements for our client across its various worksites, and with the multiple unions that represent our client's employees at those worksites. Our approach has enabled our client to more efficiently manage its numerous collective bargaining agreements.
