Jake Haskins helps entrepreneurs, emerging growth companies and investors achieve their goals. He counsels companies on a range of corporate and securities matters, including corporate formation, debt and equity financings, mergers and acquisitions and corporate governance.

While an undergraduate student at Vanderbilt, Jake led a successful business venture, gaining a valuable perspective on the challenges his clients face. From start-up to expansion to sale, Jake brings experience and passion to each transaction in order to deliver successful results.

Prior to joining Shulman Rogers, Jake practiced at a boutique corporate law firm in Austin, Texas, where he represented emerging growth companies, and as a corporate and securities attorney in the Houston office of Kirkland & Ellis LLP, where he focused on public offerings and SEC compliance and reporting obligations.

Jake received his J.D. from Vanderbilt University Law School. He received a B.S. in Human and Organizational Development and History (Concentration in European History) from Vanderbilt University.
