

Construction Claims and Litigation

When a dispute can't be resolved, we represent clients in litigation, mediation, arbitration and before appeals and other administrative boards. That includes payment and lien disputes, delay and defect claims, impact and acceleration claims as well as bid protests, among other matters. Because the same attorneys often handle a client's contracts and disputes, we come into disputes already knowing the deal, the parties, and what's actually at stake for the client.

WWW.SHULMANROGERS.COM