Massa Sitta is an associate in Shulman Rogers' Corporate & Transactional practice, advising clients on general corporate matters and business transactions. Before law school, she built a career in data analytics and technology at major financial institutions, giving her a practical understanding of how complex organizations approach governance, regulatory compliance, and data management that she brings directly to her work with clients.

Before joining Shulman Rogers full-time, Massa worked as a Summer Law Clerk with the firm. She also completed a legal internship with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and a legal graduate internship at Sallie Mae Bank, where she focused on data privacy law and corporate governance compliance for a FinTech company. She gained additional experience as a paralegal intern at an international law firm, drafting contracts and translating legal documents from Arabic to English. Earlier in her career, she worked at Freddie Mac as a Technology Analyst and Data Analytics Associate, supporting the firm's legal IT team.

During law school, Massa served as a Student Attorney in the Intellectual Property and Entrepreneurship Clinic, assisting clients with trademark matters, and as an Associate Editor of the Maryland Law Review. She served as Treasurer of both the Cyber Law and Data Privacy Association and the Maryland Intellectual Property Student Association.
